

Meredith Archie
President
NC Chamber Foundation

Meredith Archie serves as President of the NC Chamber Foundation. Archie directed communications for the NC Chamber and NC Chamber Foundation from 2011 to 2015. She leads the Foundation's competitiveness institute activities, oversees commissioned studies, and provides guidance on public policy issues to achieve the goals set out in North Carolina Vision 2030, the NC Chamber Foundation's long-range plan developed with North Carolina's job creators to secure a more competitive future. Before returning to the NC Chamber, Archie managed corporate communications, developed stakeholder engagement, and served as company spokesperson at Duke Energy.

As NC Chamber Foundation President, Archie evaluates and evolves North Carolina Vision 2030 to reflect goal achievement categorized by three pillars: Education and Talent Supply, Competitive Business Climate, and Infrastructure and Growth Leadership. Collaborating with policy experts, she directs the development and initiatives of the NC Chamber Foundation's three competitiveness institutes: Institute for Workforce Competitiveness, Institute for Supply Chain Competitiveness, and future Institute for Energy and ESG Sustainability.
